SECTION B: ASSET INFORMATION

An asset is defined as property that is owned and has an exchange value. Property that is owned includes a family's real estate holdings, business, and farm equity, real estate, stocks, bonds, mutual funds, cash, certificates of deposit (CDs), bank accounts, trust funds and other property and investments.

Federal regulations exempt certain assets from consideration for student aid purposes. Therefore, a family's principal place of residence is not reported as an asset, even if it is part of a family business. Neither is a family farm reported as an asset, only investment farms.
